

With only one more week left until the contest ends, we want to make sure that you have had your chance to express what you are Free2 do because of your local library!

So far we have heard that Senator Yee considers libraries a place where we are “free2make history,” David Talbot, author and founder of Salon.com said he is “free2wander” and Craig Newmark, the founder of Craigslist.org, appreciates that libraries are “free2make things better for everyone.” We’ve heard so many great responses, but it would not be complete without hearing from you—those closest to libraries!

You could win a FLIP® Ultra Video camera and an iPod® Shuffle, plus a chance to be featured in future campaign ads! The winners will be announced at the beginning of June as libraries across the bay kick off Summer Reading. So hurry up, enter the contest, <http://wearefree2.org/contest.php> and pass it on— we want to hear from all of you!
